Micron Technology, Inc. serves the global memory and storage market with two distinct and complementary brands: Micron® for enterprise, cloud and data center applications, and Crucial® for home, office and gaming systems.

Upgrading with either Micron or Crucial memory and storage can breathe new life into existing laptops, servers and data centers, all for a fraction of the cost of new replacements. Not only do upgrades increase performance and extend the life cycle of existing hardware, they save you time and cost 3-5x less than starting from scratch with new systems.
